The benefits of drinking Keemun Selenium Black Tea:

•Mental Alertness

Black tea has been found to be effective in increasing mental alertness. Due to the caffeine in this supplement, black tea has been found to be effective in keeping people alert when they drink it throughout the day.

•Heart Health

There is some medical evidence which suggests that people who drink black tea in moderation have a reduced risk of heart attacks. For those who drink black tea each day for at least a year, those who suffer a heart attack are much less likely to die.

•Dizziness

Drinking black tea has been shown to help prevent orthostatic hypotension, or dizziness upon standing up, because black tea raises blood pressure.

•Kidney Stones

A group of studies indicate that women who drink black tea on a regular basis have an 8 percent lower risk of developing kidney stones.

•Parkinson's Disease

Some studies have suggested that people who drink black tea have a decreased risk of Parkinson's disease. Men who consume 421 to 2,716 mg, or a moderate amount of caffeine each day, were found to have the greatest reduction in risk. Women who drink black tea were also found to have a reduced risk for Parkinson's disease, although the reduction was not found to be dose-related.

•Ovarian Cancer

Women who regularly drink tea, including either black or green tea, have been shown to have a significantly lower risk of developing ovarian cancer than women who do not drink tea.
